

Society For Indian Ocean Studies

SIOS

Blue waters, Redefined Futures

Internship Opportunity: Tech & Media Team (3 Months)

Work Mode : Remote

The Society for Indian Ocean Studies (SIOS), a well-established think tank working for over a decade in the domain of maritime affairs, geopolitics, and strategic studies, invites applications for a Tech Team Assistant (3 months) to work remotely.

The intern will assist in website management, graphic designing, public relations, social media engagement, video content (YouTube), content curation, and audience outreach. Given our role as a policy-oriented think tank, the work requires individually customized, well-curated, and visually appealing designs tailored for informed and strategic audiences.

Applicants must be proficient in Canva or Adobe Illustrator, CorelDRAW, and should be able to showcase a portfolio or samples of previous work. Experience in managing institutional social media pages and creating professional, research-oriented visual content will be an added advantage.

SIOS works closely with esteemed diplomats, ambassadors, naval personnel, strategic experts, and academicians, and the intern will gain exposure to a high-level policy and strategic ecosystem.

Interested candidates may apply by sharing their CV , previous works or innovative designs for our society's News Briefs, Commentaries, Digital flipbook for Journal. Kindly visit our website before providing relevant info <https://sios.org.in/>

Google form Link : <https://lnkd.in/exeYZimf>